Recalled by La Gascogne.

The enthusiasm over the safe arrival of the Gascogne, recalls to the mind of an old reader of The Star an incident that occurred in New York in the early '50's. He "The Atlantic of the Collins line had been long overdue, and the sense of apprehen-sion and depression had become intense. The accepted opinion was that she was lost. Every successive newspaper edition, in startling headlines continued to an-nounce: 'No tidings from the Atlantic,' until every ray of hope was extinguished and the entire city was under a pall

"One day a steamer passed Sandy Hook, and swept up through the bay straight toward her pier at foot of Canal street. While passing the Battery, where always sightseers and loiterers congregate, an officer on the bridge of the steamer shouted through a trumpet: 'The Atlantic; forty days from Liverpool; put back to Cork for repairs. The effect was magical. In a few moments the glad tidings spread over the city like wildfire, and soon there was a scene of joyous demonstrations that beg-gars description. Men abandoned business, and rushed wildly about fraternising and interchanging congratulations; strong men laughed and cried alternately; some danced; some sang; many tossed up their hats; some converted their hats into foot balls, and everybody seemed intoxicated with uncontrollable happiness.

A New President.

The annual meeting of the Washington Auxiliary of the Women's National Indian Association was held in the red parlor of the Ebbitt House at the usual hour yes-

With very great regret the ladies were obliged to accept the resignation of their president, Miss Kate Foote, now Mrs. Judge Coe of Meriden, Conn. She was expected to be present, but was detained from coming to this city with her husband, as they had planned to do in February, by the serious illness of the latter. The first vice president, Mrs. A. G. Wilkinson, was unanimously elected to the office of president. The other officers were

Gen. Whittlesey, secretary of the board of Indian commissioners, was present and gave an address, assuring the society that all possible aid would be rendered to the Navajoes as soon as the appropriation bill should be passed. A strong desire was ex-pressed that this should be done as speed-ily as possible.

REOPENING OF A CHURCH

An Interesting Service at the 15th-Street Presbyterian Tomorrow.

It Marks a New Epoch in the History

Street Presbyterian Church tomorrow, after its enlargement and other extensive improvements that have been made to it. records the fourth progressive step in this direction during the nearly sixty years' history of its existence. It not only marks a new era in the history of one of the eldest Presbyterian churches in the city, but also the wonderful growth of the localityonce a swampy out-lying district and now a valuable and fashionable section. This church directly faces McPherson-Square, one of the most charming and beautiful outlooks in the city.

The church was established some time in the thirties or early forties by Rev. John F. Cook, Daniel Carroll and Charles Bruce, then prominent colored men in Washington, assisted by Rev. John C. Smith of the Fourth Presbyterian Church, Rev. Dr. Caruthers and others interested in Chris-tian work among colored citizens. For many years services were held in a small frame building situated on the northeast corner of 14th and H streets. Here also cornetist; Miss Marie Collins, elocutionist, corner of 11th and H streets. Here also was a private school for colored children, taught by Rev. Mr. Cook, and some of the best educated colored citizens were among his pupils. About 1841 the present site on 15th street was purchased from the late Mr. W. W. Corcoran for about $500, and upon it was erected a neat frame church building, and in these new quarters the membership rapidly increased. Among its ministers during those early days were Rev. French Evans, Rev. Septimus Tustin, Rev. Dr. Wilson, Rev. Joseph E. Nourse of Georgetown, and under their pastorates it became a thriving church and probably the largest in membership of any colored Presbyterian church in the country.

A New Edifice.

About 1859 or '60 the little old frame building was torn down and in its stead was erected a substantial brick one, with seating capacity of about 300-then regarded a large church. Some of the ablest colored ministers of the country were from time to time called as pasters of this church. About 1863 Rev. Octavius Catto was paster. Afterward the Rev. Benja-Tanner, now a bishop in the Methodist Church: the Rev. Henry Highland Garnett, who was some years afterward dappointed minister to Liberia, where he died, and then the Rev. J. Sully Martin and Rev. Dr. J. B. Reeves became in turn Liszt's Eleventh Rhapsodie for Mr. Lachpastors of this church.

in 1871 the church was again remodeled and enlarged, and has so remained until its recent improvement during the last few months. The present paster is Rev. Dr. Francis J. Grinke, a graduate of Prince-ton College, and a man thoroughly imbued with Christian work. Under his charge the membership has so increased as to require additional room. This has just been secured by the addition of practically a new building, 40x25, in the rear of the present old one, and a thorough renovation of the old building, so that the whole appears as an entirely new church on the interior. Tomorrow has been set for the reopening services, and special preparations have been made for this purpose, which will include a sermon by the pastor, Rev. Francis J. Grimke, and remarks by the Rev. Dr. Jas. Craighead and Rev. William Waring at the morning service. In the afternoon at 3:30 o'clock, President Patton of Princeton Col-lege is expected to preach. Rev. Dr. Byron Sunderland of the First Presbyterian Church, and Rev. Eugene Johnson of the Lincoln Memorial Congregational Church Handbook obtainable after the present will also take part in the services. The edition is exhausted. Copies on sale at The Samuel B. Wallace of Israel C. M. E. Church, Revs. Dr. John Chester and Wm. B. The Stoddard Lectures .- Next week John

L. Stoddard enters upon the last week of his stay at the Academy of Music. During this week he has had splendid audiences, who have journeyed with him through the streets of Paris and among the glories of the Alps. Still greater treats are in store for his audiences of next week. On Monday evening he will reveal for the last time the wonderful sights of Rome, a city which, perhaps, is more completely filled with ev-erything to interest and thrill the visitor than any other in the world, ancient or modern. Tuesday and Wednesday evenings will be devoted to the wonderful experiences which the traveler through Norway enjoys, and which, whether in studying the curious Laplanders in their huts, surrounded by their reindeer, or in gazing with awe at the unique spectacle of the midnight sun, fill the days with novelty. On Thursday and Friday evenings will be given that most touching and affecting of lectures, that on the "Passion Play of Ober Ammergau." It is simply impossible to provide room for the great numbers who crowd to hear this lecture, with its wonderful illustrations, in every city. It has been heard already by more than one hundred and fifty thousand people. But, in order to afford all the accommodation possible, there will be two extra occasions at which this lecture will be given-at the final matinee next Saturday and at Mr. Stoddard's farewell appearance next Sat-urday evening. As on both these extra occasions there will be no course tickets out, they offer unusual chances to secure the Butler's Bijou Theater .- Hoyt's "A Bunch of Keys' will be the attraction at Butler's Theater next week. On Monday evening the Stage Employes' National Alliance, local lodge, No. 22, will have their first an-nual benefit. "A Bunch of Keys" is one of Hoyt's brightest farce comedies, brimful of comic situations and affording more than the ordinary opportunity for specialty work. The plot of this merry farce, and, strange to say, for a farce comedy there is a plot, is very funny and is well known, for the piece has been seen here before and always with pleasure. The company is a very strong one, and is headed by Ada Bothner as Teddy; Charles W. Bowser in his original creation of Snaggs; Harry Foy as Grimes. A grand holiday matinee will be given on Washington's birthday, and souvenir matinees Tuesday, Thursday and Saturday. Every lady attending will be given a photograph of Ada Bothner in character as Teddy.

Kernan's Lyceum Theater.—When a vau-deville organization contains so much real talent as the New York Stars, which comes to Kernan's Lyceum Theater next week, it cannot help but be appreciated by the lovers of refined variety. The company is composed of European as well as American irtists, who have been selected especially for this organization by Mr. Gus Hill, its projector, whose skill in this line has been acquired only by years of experience. In the company are the Romolo Brothers, famous English acrobats, from the Palace Theater, London; Mme. Flora, the sensational electric dancer, from the Follies Bergeres, Paris; the Crane Brothers, eccentric character comedians; C. W. Little-field, the prince of mimics; Miss Nellie Waters, the only rival of Maggie Cline; Burns and Hart, in their latest creation, "The Day the Brick Came Down;" Fred H.
Leslie and his troupe of performing dogs;
Mead and Werntz, the favorite comedy stars; the Gardner Brothers, philosophers conclude with the laughable comedy "Five Hundred Dollars Reward, Dead or Alive,' which will serve to introduce the inimitable comedian, Fred Huber, in the principal comedy role. There will be a special mati-nee Friday, February 22 (Washington's birthday). Lehigh Banjo Club Concert.-Lehigh University and its many friends and admirers in this city have reason to be proud of the highly creditable entertainment furnished by the University Glee and Banjo Clubs to lightfully interesting, and, of course, all the numbers were encored. Every one in the glee club was in good voice, and the cooccoccoccoccoccoccocc music selected was calculated to demonstrate their careful training and superior abilities; the numbers as a rule were not erally expected from college clubs, but were glees of more musical merit, and the club sang with excellent shading and effect. The banjo club was especially fine, and well merited the unstinted applause with which its renditions were greeted.

Y. M. C. A. Entertainment.-Mrs. Florence Russell Lyon and Mrs. Nellie Wilson Shir-Cliff delighted a large crowd last evening at the Friday night entertainment of the Y. M. C. A., held in the association parlors. The rooms were filled to the doors and scores were turned away for lack of room. Mrs. Shir-Cliff sang the Indian bell song from "Lakme," "Were I. Gardner," "Twas April" and Sapio's "Spring Song" in her splendid manner. Mrs. Lyon gave seven numbers, including a selection from Bon. Hur descriptive of the watch of the Ben Hur descriptive of the watch of the passage from David Copperfield telling of well received and heartily applauded. Other parts on the program were a piano solo by Miss Amy Clement Leavitt and a violin solo by Mr. S. E. Ingly. Next Friday night the entertainment will consist of a lecture by Maj. George H. Harries on "George Washington," appropriate to the occasion, the day being February 22. Bischoff Concert Course.-It will be seen by the announcement in another column that the third concert in the Bischoff concert course, which was postponed Friday the 8th instant, on account of the terrible storm, will be given next Monday evening at the Congregational Church. The program for this concert will be rendered exceedingly attractive by the appearance of Miss Cora Boyd, soprano; Miss Florence McNelly, contralto; Mr. Douglas G. Miller, together with Mr. Otis Swett and Dr. J. W. Bischoff, organists. With this array of well-known talent and under the able directorship of Dr. Bischoff an entertainment of great merit is assured. Grand Opera.-The sale of seats for the grand opera season indicates that the attendance will be very large at each per-fermance. The operas selected are those which appeal to the musical taste of the community, and also which enable the artists to be heard to the best advantage. In "Lohengrin" Nordica will sing Elsa; in the great tenor, Tamagno, will the equally great baritone, Maurel, will be heard; in "Faust" there will be Melba, Scalchi and the two De Reszkes, and in "Manon" Sybil Sanderson will be heard here for the first time.

Ysaye, the Violinist.-Tonight another famous violin virtuoso will visit the city and appear at Metzerott Hall before his first Washington audience. This is Mr. Eugene Ysaye, who is heralded as the greatest violinist living. He will be assisted by Mr. Aime Lachaume, who visited this city last winter with Marteau, and who made such a favorable impression as an accompanist. The program is a most attractive one, and includes a concerto by St. Saens, two movements in G minor by Charity Ball.—The second annual Charity Ball and Reception of the Ladies' Southern Relief Society will be held Tuesday even-ing at the National Rifles' Armory. The benefit is for the widows and orphans and needy confederate soldiers of the District of Columbia, and the list of patronesses includes the most prominent southern ladies in Washington society and others interested in the welfare of those who suffered in loyal devotion to a lost cause.

The Opera "Midas."—The comic opera "Midas" will be given at Allen's Grand Opera House Monday night by the Rouge et Blanc Club for the benefit of the Washington Home for Incurables. The charity is a worthy one, and the list of patronesses includes the most prominent leaders of Washington society. The affair will undoubtedly be successful.

Linthicum Students.-An entertainment by the Linthicum Students, assisted by prominent local talent, which is to be given Tuesday evening, promises to be an enjoyable affair. There will be music and comedy of the high order for which the Linthieum Students have justly such a reputation, and Linthieum Hall will undoubtedly be crowded by the friends of the students and the public generally.

Cinderilla Ballet.—A unique and fairy-like entertainment will be presented Wednesday afternoon and evening at Allen's Grand Opera House. It is the spectacular hallet of Cinderella, and the little children. ballet of Cinderella, and the little children, under Prof. Sheldon's direction, will present an attractive performance. The gorgeous scenery and beautiful costumes, the magic fountain, the golden chariot, drawn by real ponies, will all combine to produce a most enchanting effect, and the skilled little denears will got through a maize and little dancers will go through a maize and whirl almost bewildering.

Art Students' League Lectures .- A course of entertaining and instructive lectures before the Art Students' League has been arranged for, and the first in the series will be delivered tonight at Builders' Exchange Hall by Mr. William Ordway Part-ridge on the subject, "America's Contribu-tion to the World of Art." On March 16 Mrs. Candace Wheeler will deliver the second lecture in the course, and the con-cluding one will be given by Mr. W. Lewis Fraser on April 13.

Willard Hall.—The charity entertainment given at Willard Hall last night was a success, both financially and artistically. A large audience was present, and every number on the program proved acceptable. The program included a dramatic sketch, "The Nettle," by Mr. and Miss Pulizzi; a song by Miss Reichenbach; Greek cymbal ice by Mrs. Swiggert, Mrs. Rudloop and Misses Anderson, Mason, Conke, Blue. Thomas and Brittan; fancy dancing by Misses Mabel Owen and Lizzle Rudd, Misses O'Toole and Master Willie Collier; a tableau by Misses Armstrong and Mason, Mrs. Swiggert and Mr. Warfield. S dney Grundey's play, "In Honour Bound," was presented by the Strollers, the participants being Messrs. Robert W. Smiley and Sheri-dan Ferree, Misses Siddons and Hester Armstrong. At the close of the perform-ance refreshments were served and danc-

The committees having the affair in charge will show by their careful attention to al the details for the comfort of their guests that they have not forgotten the duties that they used to perform in their younger days. Mrs. Brown's Readings.-Mrs. Clara Bell Brown is preparing to give readings from her own poems at Metzerott Music Hall. She has written some stirring war lyrics which have obtained wide popularity and which are dramatic in their intensity, affording good opportunity for effective elocutionary effort. She will be assisted by Miss Jennie O'Neill Potter, the most successful monologist now before the pub-lic; Prof. Mariano Maina, the Franz Abt Club and Prof. Wm. Waldecker. With these attractions the entertainment should command wide attention, aside from the popularity of Mrs. Brown, whose literary work is well known and appreciated.

Future Debates and Cases to Com Up Posted.

As the time for the first joint debate between Georgetown and Columbian law schools draws nears the interest in the event grows in constantly increasing ratio. Scarcely anything else is talked about among the students and each side seems confident of victory: As heretofore announced, the first debate of the series of three to be held this season will be held in Metzerott Music Hall Thursday evening, February 28.

In the moot court at Georgetown Law School a new assignment of cases has been made and will be posted next week. Examinations are posted on the bulletin board at Georgetown as follows: Practice, February 15, and civil law, February 28. The examination in civil law will close Prof. Lambert's course upon this subject. At Columbian Law School Mr. Justice Harlan has delivered the opening lectures in his Monday evening course on torts. Dr. James Schouler, the eminent lawyer and writer, will next week begin his course of lectures on bailments and wills and administrations before the students at the National Law School. The post-graduate class at the National will be examined in the latter part of next week upon corporations and the second volume of Greenleaf on evidence.

In the moot court at the National tonight the case of Slowboy against Holdfast will come up for argument on demurrer.

OPERA SEATS PERA SEATS—
I paid a man $2 for standing in line and secured two of the best orchestra chairs for "Lohengrin."
I am obliged to leave the city, and cannot use them. To any one who desires them for their individual use, I will sell them at what they cost and the cost of this advertisement. I will burn them up rather than have them fall into the hands of unscrupulous speculators. Address
